I've spent five years explaining finance to the people who have to act on it: first to journalists, now to investors. At Partners Group I own the RFPs, due diligence questionnaires, monthly reports and pitchbooks for five evergreen private markets and multi-asset products, distributed through private banks and wealth platforms in Singapore, Australia, Japan and Europe. Before that I ran media programmes for asset managers, REITs and listed companies at Edelman and Klareco. CFA Level I above the 90th percentile; Level II in November 2026.

Investment committee approval from a leading Asian private bank

Led the due diligence questionnaire and data appendices for our infrastructure evergreen independently. The bank's investment committee approved the fund; I'm now updating the appendices ahead of launch.

A 400-question RFP, answered in time to win the allocation

A leading Spanish bank was building its market's first multi-strategy, open-ended private markets fund with Partners Group. I built a tracker giving every question an owner, status and reviewer, worked through the weekend and submitted at 1am. Within 24 hours the bank said it would include the fund, and it then committed to it as the fourth Partners Group evergreen in its fund.

> "Bhawna put in an incredible amount of work (including working through the entire weekend and several late nights) to ensure all questions were answered and comments from SMEs incorporated."

Partners Group

US$63.65 million from a strategic distribution partner

Led the RFP behind a Japanese strategic partner's second raise into our flagship evergreen trust. The raise took the relationship above US$200 million, and senior leadership recognised it as deepening a global strategic partnership.
